Naomi Loewith is an Investment Manager and Legal Counsel in Bentham IMF's Toronto office. Naomi provides claimants with thoughtful analysis and strategic advice at all stages of litigation and arbitration.

Naomi has extensive experience with complex commercial matters, advising corporations, universities, boards of directors, senior executive management and public institutions. Prior to joining Bentham, Naomi was a litigator at Lenczner Slaght LLP. In that role, Naomi conducted trials and appeals before all levels of courts and regulatory bodies, and advised on sensitive, contentious and high-profile matters.

Naomi obtained a B.A. from Western University, and a J.D. from Harvard Law School. Prior to her call to the bar, Naomi clerked for Justice Morris Fish at the Supreme Court of Canada.

Naomi is the co-chair of the Harvard Law School Women's Alliance in Toronto and is a parent mentor for the Bob Rumball Centre for the Deaf. Naomi and her Albertan husband are the proud parents of three young boys.
